Chiropractic Research 1924 with Dr. Rob Sinnott Philosophy And Practice Of Chiropractic

Chiropractic focuses on the integrity of the spine and its surrounding tissues as a means to enhance normal human function and health.

There are two basic philosophies of chiropractic: The body naturally seeks the proper balance among all its systems, which are meant to work together. Proper structure is necessary for proper function. If a structure is impaired by injury or stress, its function can be adversely affected.

A common denominator of “straight” chiropractic is the usage of subluxation. At the risk of oversimplification, chiropractors can be viewed as falling into three groups based on their usage of evidence, diagnosis, and philosophy: evidence based chiropractors, traditional straight chiropractors, and super straight chiropractors.

Science, Art and science are subject to change. As these components relate to chiropractic, they have changed and will continue to change so as to strengthen the principles of chiropractic philosophy. The triune of philosophy, art, and science must be kept in perspective if chiropractic is to continue to grow.

CHAPTER 1: AN INTRODUCTION TO THE PRINCIPLES OF CHIROPRACTIC

Chiropractic philosophy includes the following perspectives: Holism assumes that health is affected by everything in an individual's environment;

Despite the availability of such information, philosophy in chiropractic typically echoes that of mysticism, rather than critical thinking. This is perhaps because chiropractors overemphasize and misinterpret the nature of metaphysics as it relates to chiropractic practice. Translated from Greek, metaphysics literally means after physics.
